Death road at top of improvements list

BY Jo Deeks

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

AN ACCIDENT black spot on the notorious A1307 “road of death” is being declared the county’s most important road safety project.

Six deaths on the road in two years have brought calls for road improvements to fever pitch.

Two fatalities at almost the same spot – close to Horseheath Green – have put pressure on Cambridgeshire County Council to act.

Council safety experts are responding by putting the Park Hill and Horseheath Green junction at the top of the priority list for improvements.

The council’s cabinet will agree the list of schemes to receive funding at a meeting next Tuesday.

If agreed, detailed plans will be drawn up and, depending on what funds are given by Government, work could begin in the 2008/09 financial year.

Campaigning councillor Vicky Ford, district councillor for Balsham ward, which covers Horseheath, said: “I am delighted the council has done this.”

“It is always frustrating that budgets don’t always allow all road improvement schemes to go ahead, and this road has missed out many times in the past. In the meantime we want drivers to drive as safely as possible.”

The latest fatal accident, which killed Haverhill’s Peter Rogers, 34, happened 300 metres east of the spot where schoolgirl Imogen Barker, 15, died in February.

Community 'kitty' pilot

SUFFOLK residents are to have their say on how council cash is spent.

The new "community kitty" initiative was announced this week by Hazel Blears, communities secretary, and Suffolk will be one of the first areas to take part. Community kitties allow people to use debates, neighbourhood votes and public meetings to set priorities for spending cash in their areas.

Coun Lisa Chambers, Suffolk County Council's portfolio holder responsible for localities, said: "We have a good record of involving local people in decision making within their own communities. I am delighted we have been selected to be a pilot in this national project."

Top award for Karen

A COURSE director at West Suffolk College, in Bury St Edmunds, has won a National Science Technician award.

Karen Bell, from Cheveley, was one of only four winners across the country to receive the award at Salters' Hall in London earlier this month.

Responsible for the first diploma applied science course, she supported the development of forensic science and general applied science within the department.

Chief in job move

A COUNTY council boss is leaving to take up a new appointment in London.

Mike More, chief executive of Suffolk County Council for the past five years, will take up his new job as chief executive of Westminster City Council in April.

He joined Suffolk in 1999 as head of resource management and became chief executive in 2002.

His new job is expected to have a salary of more than £200,000 a year.

Tree-plant marks silver celebration

BIOTECHNOLOGY company Genzyme has celebrated a quarter of a century in Haverhill.

The well known firm specialises in products and services focusing on rare inherited disorders, kidney disease, cancer and transplants.

Genzyme Corporation, based in Boston, America, was founded in 1981 and bought Koch Light Ltd on the Hollands Industrial estate in Haverhill a year later.

The site originally had just 25 staff.

The anniversary will mark the latest stage in the site's development with completion of an £18 million expansion to accommodate the manufacture of the second generation renal failure drug Renvela.

BY Rachel Exance

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

The company celebrated its presence in the town by planting 25 silver birch trees.

Simon Cousins, vice president and general manager of Genzyme Haverhill, said: "It has been an interesting journey. It has also been hugely eventful for the company and our success couldn't have been achieved without the support from our employees, the local community and authorities which makes doing business in Haverhill a pleasure."

Genzyme has increased its operations in Haverhill over the last two decades.

Since the millennium, capital investment in the site has exceeded £100m and more than 300 people are now employed there.

It manufactures bulk quantities of sevelamer hydrochloride, the active ingredient in Renagel, a drug for patients on kidney dialysis which can control phosphate levels in those with chronic kidney failure.

Many staff have also been getting involved in the local community this year through Genzyme's Global in Volunteer Efforts (G.I.V.E) scheme.

Haverhill employees spent over 200 volunteering hours at St Nicholas Hospice in Bury St Edmunds raising more than £6,500. Their efforts were matched by a company donation of £7,500.

Nominations for police trophy

PEOPLE are being asked to nominate police for a top award for outstanding service.

Suffolk Police are inviting nominations for the Sheepshanks Trophy which is open to both officers and police staff.

It is awarded in recognition of professional conduct, commitments which have given the recipient close affinity to their community and other special commendable service which has been particularly valuable for community relations.

Nominations are taken from members of the public and Suffolk Police supervisory officers.

They are then judged by a committee which includes a member of the Suffolk Police Authority and the assistant chief constable.

Carl Puiy, temporary assistant chief constable, said: "Officers and staff do a wonderful job and this prestigious award is given in appreciation of their commitment.

"I would ask anyone who knows of an officer or a member of police staff who really makes a difference in their community to put forward a nomination and give them the recognition they deserve."

The Sheepshanks Trophy was set up in 1991 by the then chairman of Suffolk Police Committee, Captain Robin Sheepshanks.

Anyone who wishes to nominate a member of Suffolk Constabulary personnel for the trophy should send their nomination to Inspector Ben Cook at Suffolk Police Headquarters, Martlesham Heath, Ipswich, Suffolk, IP5 3QS.

The closing date for nominations is January 11.

New fire chief joins

A NEW deputy chief fire officer for Suffolk has been appointed. He is Andy Fry, assistant chief fire officer for Essex who has served 20 years in the fire service. He will take up his appointment in January as deputy to Lee Howell, Suffolk's chief fire officer and director of public protection. He will be responsible for the operational work of the county's fire and rescue service.

Piping stolen

METAL piping was taken in a raid on a yard. Robbers gained entry to the Piperell Way yard, in Haverhill, by damaging a fence. Two men were seen loading the metal into a white Transit-type van at 1.20pm on December 6. Calls in relation to this incident should be made to Pc Antony Orr on (01284) 774100 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

Proposed alcohol free designated zone in Haverhill

■ DRY LAND . . . the enlarged area where a drinks ban may be imposed in Haverhill town centre. If approved, the ban could be in force by February.

Drinks ban is sought in town

BOOZE could be banned from Haverhill town centre if residents agree.

St Edmundsbury Borough Council is outlining how the ban would work but wants the public's views beforehand.

If agreed, the ban would make it an offence to drink alcohol in certain parts of the town centre.

It would give police powers to confiscate and dispose of alcohol in sealed or open containers.

A similar ban was introduced in Bury St Edmunds, and it led to reduced crime and vandalism.

Inspector Adrian Dawson, district inspector for Haverhill, said: "Most of the problems are caused by a small group of people who make problems in the same areas."

"Historically, these have been centred on the bus station and the cemetery. This small group of people cause a

BY Ben Lee

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

disproportionate amount of problems."

Insp Dawson said the designated area had grown in size from its initial plan due to fears that groups would be displaced from the centre to other areas.

Coun Sara Mildmay-White, St Edmundsbury Borough Council's cabinet member for community, said: "I don't think the problem is any worse here than in other towns the same size."

"We just want people to enjoy Haverhill and go about their everyday business without the fear of being intimidated by a small minority of people."

The ban would work in a similar way to that in Bury St Edmunds. Anyone who refuses to hand over their alcohol when asked could be arrested and or fined up to £500.

If given the thumbs up by the public the ban would be brought in next February. Councillors have already approved it in principle.

“We just want people to enjoy Haverhill and go about their everyday business without the fear of being intimidated by a small minority of people.”

Coun Sara Mildmay-White

The designated area does not include licensed premises.

An online questionnaire can be found at www.stedmundsbury.gov.uk or it can be posted to Helen Lindfield, community safety officer, St Edmundsbury Borough Council, Borough Offices, Angel Hill, Bury St Edmunds, IP33 1XB, or email her at helen.lindfield@stedsbcc.gov.uk

Road scheme awaits funds

Engineers are suggesting that an improvement scheme could include a ghost island, pedestrian refuge in the centre of the road and better road markings.

Esther Cornell, spokeswoman for action group Access 1307, said: "We are very pleased that, subject to confirmation, funding for this scheme will be implemented."

"It will provide much safer access to the bus stop and will also provide protection for vehicles turning right."

"Sadly, as there is very little funding for road safety schemes, it has taken a tragic accident and the loss of a young life for improvements to be made."

Cambridgeshire county councillor Mac McGuire, lead member for highways and transport, said: "This scheme will help to reduce accidents at this notorious junction where a young girl lost her life."

Schools are top of the class

BY John Downing

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

CLEVER primary school pupils in Cambridgeshire have received an early Christmas present – they have officially been declared smarter than the average child.

The Key Stage 2 (KS2) school performance tables published last week show the county's 11-year-olds beat the national average in all three core subjects – English, maths and science.

And they beat last year's excellent results, which shows the hard work by teachers and pupils has paid off.

In English, 83 per cent of the 11-year-olds reached the expected standard (level 4 or above). In maths this was 80 per cent and in science it was 89 per cent.

The English results were up two percentage points on last year's results and three percentage points above the national average of 80 per cent.

The maths result was one percentage point higher than last year and three percentage points above the national average of 77 per cent.

And in science it was up one percentage point on last year and kept one percentage point higher than the national average of 88 per cent.

The results put Cambridgeshire as the 35th best performing authority in the country – one place higher than last year.

But the county's truancy rate was slightly up again on last year's 0.5 per cent to 0.7 per cent – higher than the national average of 0.5 per cent.

The tables, released by the Department for Children, Schools and Families (DCSF) also showed pupils in Hertfordshire and Essex and Bedfordshire were performing in line with the national average.

■ JUMPING FOR JOY... Cambridgeshire primary school pupils are smarter than the average youngster.

But Key Stage 2 pupils in Suffolk just fell short of the mark once again.

Nationally, record numbers of primary schools scored full marks in the tests and for the first time 250 primaries succeeded in making sure every 11-year-old reached standards expected of them.

Faith schools dominated the table of the top primaries in England, making up more than 160 of the 250 best performers.

But the figures also confirmed that three out of 10 pupils failed to master the basics of both English and maths.

Schools minister Lord Adonis congratulated teachers and children on their record results.

He said: "Compared to 1997, 100,000 more 11-year-olds are mastering the basics in reading, writing and arithmetic. But we are far from complacent and know there is more to do to ensure that every pupil has the opportunity to reach their full potential and we have a world class system everywhere."

Nationally, 29 per cent of pupils failed to reach level 4 in both English and maths, with boys in particular struggling to master the basics.

The figures showed there were 1,484 primary schools in which at least 35 per cent of pupils fell short of level 4 in English.

In 2,026 schools, at least 35 per cent of pupils failed to reach level 4 in maths.

The Government stressed this represented a major improvement since 2003 and meant targets for cutting the number of schools in these positions had been met.

Abbots Ripton Primary School was the highest performing in Cambridgeshire, with 100 per cent of students achieving level 4 in English, maths and science.

Swavesey Primary School was ranked the fourth best performing primary in the county, with 97 per cent of pupils achieving the required level in English, 97 per cent in maths and 100 per cent in science.

Vicky Godbold, headteacher, said: "We are absolutely delighted with these results. They reflect all the hard work that has been put in by staff and pupils throughout the year. It is a lovely early Christmas present for everyone at the school."

St Alban's Primary School in Cambridge and Coton C of E School were in the top 200 schools with the highest proportion of pupils achieving level 5 – one above the Government's target.

Bright children at Abbots Ripton Primary School and Fawcett Primary School secured their schools a place in the top 200 in the country for their aggregate results.

A county council spokesman said: "We are delighted that once again, Cambridgeshire 11-year-olds have exceeded expectations and put the county well above the national average."

"We are proud of them all and these results demonstrate that as a county the drive to raise standards across our schools is working."

Biker dies in grass track crash

OFF-ROAD motorcycling turned to tragedy for a Haverhill teenager who suffered fatal head injuries in a crash, an inquest has been told.

Andrew Armstrong, 18, of Queensway, Haverhill is believed to have lost control of his Honda motorcycle and collided with a telegraph pole while riding with a friend.

A police investigation concluded faults with the motorcycle and the fact Mr Armstrong had been drinking, although not over the drink-drive limit, could have been significant factors in the accident.

The accident happened on a grass track at Swampy Field, Burton End, Haverhill, on August 8. The inquest at Bury St Edmunds heard how a post mortem examination conducted by pathologist Dr Barry Cotterill concluded death was due to head injuries.

Recording a verdict of accidental death, Coroner Dr Dean said: "What took place was a tragic accident."

MP raps plan for change to local councils

WEST Suffolk MP Richard Spring has reacted with fury to plans to shake up East Anglia's local government, which could see St Edmundsbury and Forest Heath councils scrapped.

The senior Tory MP branded the shake-up "a total waste of time and money".

Mr Spring spoke out after Local Government Minister John Healey announced his final decisions on council shake-ups in Britain.

He produced a shock when he said he had asked for a reconsideration of plans to create a single all-purpose authority on the current Ipswich borough council boundaries.

He revealed that he had asked the boundary committee of the Electoral Commission to look at whether any new unitary authority should be based on a Greater Ipswich.

If both the Ipswich and Norwich unitary authorities extend beyond the current borough council boundaries, this would require a major shake-up of district councils in Suffolk and Norfolk.

Government sources said that a Greater Ipswich would certainly include Felixstowe and could include Lowestoft and Great Yarmouth.

Another alternative is for Great Yarmouth and Lowestoft to become their own unitary authority requiring the remainder of Suffolk and Norfolk to become all purpose authorities, scrapping the existing districts including St Edmundsbury and Forest Heath.

Mr Spring said: "This is a total waste of time and money. Nobody wants to change the council structure in Suffolk."

"The Government is always talking about local accountability, but scrapping St Edmundsbury and Forest Heath in favour of some unitary Suffolk monstrosity is doing the opposite. I am totally against any such change which will take power further from the local people who vote."

"This is completely unnecessary."

"One other option, especially if King's Lynn in Norfolk resurrected proposals to create a single unitary authority with Wisbech in North Cambridgeshire, would be to merge the rural remainders of Norfolk and Suffolk into a single all purpose authority."

"This would be deeply controversial in view of the historic rivalry between the two counties."

Dancers tap in to final success

SOME of Haverhill's finest young dancers have been competing at a national competition.

Four Haverhill dancers at the Lane Dance Centre, based in Kentford, Newmarket, took podium places in a competition at the Blackpool National Grand Finals.

Hayley Dunn, and Kirsty Webb, both aged 11, came first in the Juvenile Bronze and Below Ballroom Section (waltz). They were the only girl-girl couple in the final. Ronnie Walford, director of the school, said:

"Overall the whole school came away from the weekend with 34 medals."

Also finishing in the top places were Haverhill's Terry Collard, 14; Brogan Walford, 15; Annabel Bianchi, 15; Jessica Manser, 16; Leanne Harvey, 15; Isabelle Proffitt; and Rebecca Mace.

The Lane School of Dance opened in 1986 and since then has evolved into four dedicated dance centres, including Haverhill, each providing the highest level of training in all dance sport disciplines.

■ STEPPING OUT . . . Annabel Bianchi, and Brogan Walford, both 15, came fifth in the junior silver and gold ballroom section (quickstep) at the national dance finals in Blackpool.

Youngsters create wider web

WEB designers are putting together an online project with a difference.

Young people in Haverhill are getting their voices heard and creativity recognised by contributing to a new website.

About 30 youngsters aged 13-19 have been working with a team of experienced film and media professionals since the beginning of November to create content for www.cb9mediahub.org.uk.

The project aims to showcase young people's skills and creativity and reflect aspects of life in Haverhill from the point of view of young people.

Michelle Brace, youth projects officer with Haverhill Town Council, said: "This project is gathering momentum all the time. It will have a life well beyond March 2008 when the initial grant funding comes to an end.

"We envisage that the Media Hub will be the creative force to continue running media workshops."

To find out more go to the CB9 Media Hub information event at Haverhill Arts Centre today from noon-2.30pm.

Attack on cash point

VANDALS damaged a cash point in a late night attack.

Windows smashed

UP TO eight youths were seen smashing a window at the back of a house in Parkside, Haverhill.

The incident happened at 8.35pm on December 5.

REMEMBER that woolly jumper your aunty bought you for Christmas last year? The stripy, itchy, uncomfortable number that you threw back in the box and pretended to be grateful for?

Unless it was particularly hideous, or particularly out of character for her to buy it, the chances are that no, you don't remember it at all. In fact, the odds are that you might not remember much about the presents you got at Christmas from anyone last year. Christmas might be a time of goodwill, but it's increasingly becoming a time of good riddance.

Presents we don't need and don't want are increasingly taking precedence in our stockings, as the average Brit wastes £50 on unwanted gifts a year, totalling a massive £2.3 billion in unwanted gifts over the Christmas season, according to one recent survey.

As nearly 40 per cent of them gather dust in cupboards and a third are sold on the internet after the Christmas holiday has passed, it's no surprise that one in four of us can't remember what anyone bought for us last year. The survey, by Dove, also found that, more worryingly, half of us can't recall what our partners gave us.

You could ask everyone what it is specifically that they'd like this year, but if you haven't the time or inclination, we've included a handy guide to help you think of alternative gifts for the special people in your life, plus tips on how to avoid high street and online shopping pitfalls. Happy hunting!

THEY CAN ALWAYS TAKE IT BACK...

If you're braving the high streets and online marketplaces, good luck to you. As long as you keep these few tips from Which? legal service in mind, your friends and family need not be disappointed – as returning items could be easier than it was shopping for them.

1. Keep the receipt – it's always best to have the receipt, but you can still try to return goods using any proof of purchase, including a bank statement or credit card bill.

2. Don't worry about binning the box – if products are faulty or not fit for the purpose, they can be returned regardless of whether they are in the box they came in or not.

3. Check the returns policy – especially if buying early. When buying on the high street, you have no right to return something just because you, or they, don't like it. But many shops will refund, exchange or give credit notes as a gesture of goodwill.

4. Use the plastic if you're spending more than £100 – if an item costs between £100-£30,000 it's best to put it on your credit card.

That way, if a retailer refuses to remedy problem goods, the card company has the same responsibility as the retailer – great if the retailer goes bust or denies responsibility for goods.

5. Know your online rights – there is a cooling-off period starting the minute you place the order and ending seven working days after you receive the goods, during which time you are free to cancel. This also applies to mail order.

■ RETURNS... keep the receipt, most shops will exchange or refund unwanted gifts.

What Christmas tree will you get?

■ CHOICE . . . there're a huge variety of trees available.

IF you haven't already bought your Christmas tree it's worth thinking about what type of tree you are going to buy.

The most popular, the Nordmann fir is likely to be more expensive than in previous years, growers are warning.

About 8.5 million trees are sold in this country every Christmas, of which half are Nordmann firs.

Imports of the popular tree, which is grown in Denmark, have dropped because a ruling by the European Union to scrap subsidies has put many growers out of business.

"Last year the Danes had reduced the numbers of Nordmanns (Abies nordmanniana) they were sending, although a number of big wholesalers and garden centres had long-term contracts which meant they were still coming in in quantity," says Roger Hay, secretary of the British Christmas Tree Growers Association.

"Numbers of Nordmanns imported from Denmark has fallen from 1.5 million last year to 500,000 this year. We grow them increasingly over here but they take about 10 years to grow to a saleable size. Expect to pay between £30 and £40 for a 6-7ft Nordmann.

"They will still be available in garden centres and major retailers, but it will be the smaller outlets which are likely to have reduced supplies.

"As a result some of the other trees have come into the frame to replace them at Christmas, such as Scots pine or Lodgepole pine. They are super trees and the best holders of needles.

"They are a different shape from the rest, in that they are very bushy and the needles are in clumps rather than distributed all the way along the branch. They have a great smell, a good shape and don't take up any more room than a Nordmann."

Follow these tips to buying and maintaining the perfect Christmas tree:

■ Cut trees should be fresh when purchased. The needles should not be dull and dried up and the branches should not be brittle. The outer needles should not fall off if the tree is gently shaken.

■ After you have bought your tree it should be kept outside in a cool shaded place, preferably standing in water, until it is required indoors.

■ Before bringing the tree indoors, cut about half an inch off the trunk to open up the pores and mount it in a water-holding stand.

■ Keep the container topped up with water – an average tree can drink a pint a day. Don't stand it near a radiator, or it may dry out.

■ If you want to grow your tree on, invest in a bare-root or container grown tree with its roots growing in the pot, slowly acclimatise it to the open by putting it in a sheltered spot initially, before planting in its final home, making sure the root collar is at ground level and watering it in well.

For more information go to bctga.co.uk

■ FRESH TREES . . . don't drop needles as quickly.

Charity gets festive boost

A LOCAL accountancy firm has forgone the traditional Christmas card mail-out this year in favour of a donation to charity.

Paul Donno & Co Ltd has instead handed over a cheque for £125 to the Glemsford First Responders.

The responders team is made up of 10 volunteers who are trained to attend emergency calls and provide life saving skills, including heart defibrillation, resuscitation and first aid, until an ambulance arrives. The group aims to provide this cover every day of the year.

Sandra Bentley, practice manager, said: "Choosing not to send Christmas cards seems a bit miserable, but on the other hand there are some very good reasons not to. "The first of course is that the Glemsford

Responders, a group funded entirely by donations, will benefit from our contribution. "Then there are the environmental issues. According to Envirowise, the Royal Mail delivered 744 million Christmas cards in 2005 – that is the equivalent of 248,000 trees, so unfortunately sending Christmas cards does have a negative impact on the environment."

Santa's on tour

SANTA will be coming to town and raising money for good causes.

Father Christmas will bring his sleigh to Haverhill and surrounding villages throughout December before he packs up ready for his big night on Christmas Eve.

The sleigh has been set up by Haverhill Round Table, Haverhill Rotary Club and Haverhill Ladies Circle. The Round Table raised more than £3,000 last year, and organisers hope they will be just as successful this time round.

Santa started his tour last week. The sleigh will be in Haverhill town centre for late night shopping this Friday and during the day on Saturday and Sunday, December, 22.

Assault in field

A WOMAN was sexually assaulted while walking to work.

She was attacked on the recreation field, in Haverhill, at around 7.25am on Sunday.

An unidentified man grabbed her from behind but the victim resisted and ran away.

The man is described as a white male, around 20 to 28 years old, six feet tall, of medium build, with dark coloured hair, and wearing dark blue jeans and a blue and white stripy top. He spoke with a local accent. Anyone with information is asked to call DC Claire Humphreys at Haverhill CID on (01284) 774100.

MP backs campaigners' bid to save their school

CAMPAIGNERS trying to save a school from closure have won the backing of their local MP.

Clare Middle School could be closed by Suffolk County Council as part of a reorganisation.

But parents want the school to be turned into a new secondary school instead.

Youngsters from Clare currently go to secondary schools in Haverhill or Sudbury.

Tim Yeo, MP for South Suffolk, visited the school to speak to parents.

He said: "I am fully supportive of

BY Ben Lee

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

the idea of a new secondary school in Clare.

"I believe this would best serve the interests of the town and the surrounding villages and is clearly preferable to busing 11-year-old boys and girls to schools in Haverhill.

"I am delighted the county council has accepted that a new secondary school in Clare is a real possibility.

"They clearly recognise the considerable merits of this proposal or they would not have seen fit to suggest it at all.

"Our task now is to make this their preferred option. And if the local community get behind the idea they have my full backing."

The county council has said it had considered the cost of all options for the Clare school, including the option of creating a secondary school in the town.

There will be no more public meetings on the issue but people are still encouraged to make their views known up until January 18 when the consultation period ends. The final decision will be made by the council's cabinet in March.

All courses are of intensive structure and lead to a full qualification in just four weeks. In a local college this could take up to two years.

The owner of the centre says: "Some would say that a full qualification in such a short time is not possible, this is not the case. The teaching is done in a manner where all information is kept fresh in the students mind unlike one or two nights a week in college where this can be

"By the time of the exam the student should have all the information and knowledge needed to achieve their chosen qualification. After the course we will offer a full telephone support service offering advice on self employment and job searching.

■ SUPPORT . . . telephone service gives career advice after the course.

"There is a massive shortage of well trained newly qualified plumbers and plasterers at the moment and it's a well known fact that these careers can be paid very well."

Students will benefit from modern facilities including internet access to help with their course revision.

No previous experience is necessary for any of the courses and it doesn't matter what stage of life you're at – you could be a school leaver looking to start a career in a trade, a property developer looking to learn some new skills or just someone looking to improve on your DIY skills – everyone is welcome.

Help may be available for funding and all tea and coffee is free. All tools and equipment are provided in the course fee, the only requirement is that students wear steel-capped footwear and overalls.

For more information call 0808 222 0808 or 07887800601. The centre has also been featured on Q103.

Haverhill Weekly News regional round-up

Help us keep you informed. We want your news. If your village or club is planning an event, let us know. If your organisation recently had an interesting meeting, let us have a report. Kedington AROUND 20 people attended the annual meeting of the Kedington Community Association.

They were welcomed by president Alan Barney, who voiced thanks to all for their support over the year.

Treasurer Sue Brown presented a report on the finances, which indicated the figures had increased by some £6,000. The accounts were adopted with thanks to the treasurer and auditor, Stephanie Taylor.

In his report on the year's work of the association, chairman Steve Brown reported on his three years in the chair, the last one being the busiest yet, but with many positive outcomes. But the year was overshadowed by the death of Alan Ford, chairman of the meadow management group and annual organiser of the Meadowlark Clay Pigeon Shoot. Alan was a staunch member of the association and other organisations in the village, and his death will be a huge loss to the community. Sincere condolences were offered to his wife Joan and his family. Best wishes were also voiced to another active member of the association, Mike Tyler, who has recently returned from hospital, though his condition is still serious.

Regarding improvements to the centre during the year, the upgrading of the patio was an obvious one. Storage containers have been long awaited due to the lack of funding, but are now in place, which will allow the old garages area to be tidied up for an extension of the car park. Tributes were paid to Brian Cann and Frank Parker for getting the site ready for the containers, and to Neville and Andy Smith for doing the necessary groundwork. Another combined effort was the clean-up day at the centre, organised by Celia Bradnam. Hopefully this will become an annual event.

Looking to the future, on Wednesday, February 27, 2008, a further team of volunteers will be needed to assist the Stour Valley Project with tidying up the strip of woodland between the weir and pumping station where the main problem is dead or dying elm trees. Once this is tidied up an assessment will be made to see where trees can be planted. A plea was made for help on that day which is again urgently needed.

With regard to fire regulations, the alarm system and emergency lighting has been extended to the library and the fire exit door beside the gents' toilet has been replaced, with thanks for donations from the parish council.

Following the recent burglary, three fire extinguishers had to be replaced, and remedial work was required following the annual fire system check.

The cost of vandalism has been significant for the association in terms of time and money. The fact that the culprits have so far escaped prosecution means that for everyone, the tension is high that further acts of mindless vandalism may take place, which may result in serious injury. Please report every incident to the police, so they have the complete picture of what is happening.

The gate closure policy has helped to make life more tolerable for the neighbours of the centre, but this is not always done. Therefore, it is requested that all groups and hirers ensure the gate is locked when the centre and library are closed.

The bottle banks have been well used by the community and have helped raise funds for the centre, but again they have been vandalised and are currently out of commission.

Principal improvements inside the centre include new toilets, new small tables, hearing loop systems (thanks to the Church in the Field), and a new fridge and microwave. Improvements around the car park have been made possible by a grant from the County Council through the Rev Karen Knight.

On a more positive note, the two major fund raising events – the Meadowlark and fireworks evening – will take place again next year. This year, the Meadowlark raised £5,000 and the fireworks night added £3,000.

Both events involve a considerable amount of planning and organising by many people – not just council members, but many friends who come forward to help.

The chairman conveyed his thanks to all organisations and friends who step forward to help in numerous ways.

Next year sees the 40th anniversary of the formation of the association, and it is hoped to make it a very special occasion.

Like last year, Melody Gosling, Peter Deeks, Sue Brown and Celia Bradnam have agreed to organise the various elements of the weeks' events. Following a debriefing meeting, it was agreed to stage another fireworks display next year.

The chairman summed up his report, with thanks to everyone on the committee, all the sections, groups and members in what he considered a most successful year for the association, and included, in particular, Ai-Heng Byron, who reliably manages the Village Ernie, Celia Bradnam for her sterling work as editor of the Ketton Review, and the newly-appointed auditor, Stephanie Taylor.

Also thanks to Barbara Tyler who has carried out the duties of booking clerk and membership secretary, despite her husband, Mike's serious illness.

Many thanks also to Kathy Hardy for her hard work during the year in producing minutes and Ernie results, as well as her dependability at fundraising events. Finally, many thanks to Sue for keeping finances up to date.

Reports of the association's groups were given by Rob Nicholas on behalf of Ketton Players, Heather Driver on behalf of the carpet bowls group, and Celia Bradnam, Review editor.

Following the annual meeting, a short meeting of the community council saw all retiring officers re-elected.

MANORISMS

News from Castle Manor Business and Enterprise College

THIS week Castle Manor welcomed the opportunity to prove the progress the college has made in the last few years. Ofsted inspectors examined the school last Thursday and Friday, studying the school's self-evaluation and analysing the pupils' results and their progress by observing lessons and looking at how well the school is led and managed. The inspectors seemed very pleased with the college; we hope to receive the results back shortly.

■ Castle Manors Celebration of Achievement Evening took place last Tuesday, with over 50 people collecting awards for the 06-07 school year. Each subject awarded a student from Year 10 and 11 for attainment, and for effort and progress. Certificates to former Year 11 and Year 13 students for their achievement in GCSE and A level were also presented, as well as college prizes for special accomplishments throughout the year in a particular subject area. Performances by The Samba Band, Lee Mayes, The Chamber Choir, and dance students were enjoyed throughout the night. Thank-you to Paul Donno, Chairman of the Haverhill Chamber of Commerce, was the Guest of Honour for the night.

■ Last Wednesday members of the Castle Manor Youth Forum travelled to Bury to meet with Youth Forums from other schools. Matching with the Castle Manor Theme of the Week (drugs and alcohol), the topic was alcohol issues amongst young people. They also discussed the annual 'Mix and Blend' evening, which serves like a youth club for young people to come along and talk about problems they

36pt pic story head

Sir, In response to the issue of funding cuts to the doctors practices in Haverhill - I feel that the manner in which this funding cut has been handled does lead to cause for concern with how the NHS operates.

Since 1997, the NHS nationally has had its funding more than doubled - yet the improvements at best have not been commensurate in relation to the extra funding. This obviously begs the question as to why this is the case.

Up and down the country

there have been reports of primary care trusts in deficit having to impose the most drastic and unacceptable cuts to medical services, and all this despite huge amounts of money going into the NHS.

Its obvious then that the NHS has huge bureaucracies within it which take money from front line services and one major example of this has to be in the function and operation of SHAs or strategic health authorities.

In September it was announced by Cambridge's MP that eight board members of the East of England Strategic Health authority have combined salaries of over £900,000 a year and pensions worth £3.9 million. Cambridge's MP David Howarth is quoted to have said, "I have yet to discover what useful function the SHA fulfils. What we really need is it to be abolished".

Well, on that basis - the axing of £300,000 from Haverhill practices over five years then is really and totally unnecessary. Lets assume then that only a rationalisation of the SHAs was able to take place and not all of this money could be found from here - there is another area in which this money could quite easily be found.

The UK is just about the only country in the developed world in which its free to see a GP. Also here in Britain there is no charge for missed appointments either. On the NHS own figures they have estimated that missed appointments cost close on £200 million a year nationally.

In this day and age a charge of £5 to see a GP which is less than the cost of a packet of cigarettes or 2 pints of beer is not at all unreasonable. Also a charge of £10 if you miss an appointment which is quarter of the cost of a parking ticket would ensure that people get the message not to miss their appointments. If this was applied to the doctors services in Haverhill this would sort out of any funding shortfall. Its absurd that this has not even been considered.

Finally the manner in which the new contracts have been brought in is totally unacceptable. This has been handled in a way totally at odds with a modern democracy. One GP described it as; "contract negotiations with a gun to our heads" (Haverhill Echo Nov 29). The NHS is one of the worst examples of a state monopoly and its operation and functioning are an insult to democracy. What we have seen in Haverhill is the undermining of professional integrity in which those doctors and others who work there are treated with complete and total contempt. The concerns of those who use the doctors service have been ridden roughshod. Its unacceptable in this day and age.

Cash snub for Chief Constable

CHIEF Constable Julie Spence's call for extra cash to cope with an influx of migrants has been snubbed.

Hopes that the Cambridgeshire force would be given an extra £2m to recruit 100 more officers were dashed by Home Secretary Jacqui Smith.

Mrs Spence caused a storm in September, saying her force had been "short-changed" by £17.4 million since 2002.

Her brave bid was backed by David Cameron and Immigration Minister Liam Byrne.

But the force was only awarded a three per cent increase in funding of £2.3m for next year, which amounts to an extra £300,000 more than what was planned for.

There will be similar increases for the following two financial years, which crashes any plans for a hike next year to cope with the rise in population.

Mrs Spence said: "We need to look at detailed implications. The initial figure suggests a more

BY Raymond Brown

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

generous settlement than we anticipated, but we won't know until we analyse the detail exactly what this will mean.

"It reinforces the importance of our campaign and the fact that we have been able to put our case directly to ministers and officials.

"I've made it clear that we will focus all our efforts on continuing to improve our service, but we continue to face pressure and as each year goes by and Cambridgeshire grows, we will continue to lag behind in officer numbers unless the funding improves."

Keith Walters, chairman of Cambridgeshire Police Authority, said: "My initial reaction is that there seems to have been a genuine effort at finding a balance, and Cambridgeshire has fared very slightly better than expected. It amounts to an extra £300,000 above what we had planned for.

"However, this is only one part of the budget jigsaw and is about one fifth of one per cent of our net spending. I would like to emphasise that we are under no illusions that the settlement is still likely to leave us needing to take some tough decisions.

"Although this authority has received a provisional settlement which is better than the average, Cambridgeshire still remains one of the lowest-funded forces per head of population in the country, and we will be interested to see whether this year's settlement has changed that position, especially in the light of the well-documented additional pressures associated with our population growth."

■ REJECTED ... Cambridgeshire Chief Constable Julie Spence, above, requested an extra £2m from Home Secretary Jacqui Smith but the force has been granted just an extra £300,000.

Jim Paice, MP for South East Cambridgeshire, warned the failure could mean a Council Tax hike.

He said: "Obviously, I am disappointed. Any further increase in funding is welcome to help with the efforts that the police authority has already outlined. Clearly they have got to manage their resources given this news, and they will have to look at the Council Tax precept."

Cambridge City Council leader Ian Nimmo-Smith, said: "Current and future funding does not take into account the pressures from the increase in population in Cambridgeshire.

"We would hope the Government may realise that in the future."

■ Eastern European gangs are involved in sex trafficking. Translation costs have risen to £1m.

■ A rise in cannabis farming, often run by Vietnamese gangs, is also being tackled by the force.

■ Immigrants are more likely to drink and drive or carry knives than British nationals, according to police.

Slimmer ska man still has big sound

SKA heroes Bad Manners may be known for their larger than life frontman, Buster Bloodvessel, but he's not quite as large as he used to be. The singer, who will be performing with the band at the Junction on Monday, was famous for his anarchic stage act and his ample girth. But after a health scare in 2004, he lost over half his bodyweight and went from 31 stone to a velte 14 stone. But after bouncing back, the former owner of a hotel called Fatty Towers and the rest of the band have spent a busy few years touring and still regularly play to packed crowds with hits like Special Brew, Lip Up Fatty and My Girl Lollipop. Support comes from Cambridge ska collective Big 10. Tickets are £15-£17. To book tickets call (01223) 511511.

Sin, damnation and Elvis in the convent

By Nik Shelton

A BRAND new student theatre company in Cambridge is dusting off Mary O'Malley's convent school comedy, Once A Catholic, at the Mumford Theatre this week.

It's the debut production for the new Ruskin Dramatic Society, which was formed by students at the Anglia Ruskin University earlier this year. Taking the directorial reins is the theatre's manager, Richard Purkiss.

"A couple of students came to me and said they wanted to set up their own society and produce work for the Mumford stage, and it's our job to support students when they take the initiative like that," he says.

"This is their debut production and they wanted something that was established. They also wanted a comedy and I think they've picked a really good one." The play is set in a 1950s London convent school and follows adolescent girls who are bombarded by lessons about saints, sin and suffering. But despite threats of hell and damnation, their emerging sexuality and the corrupting influence of Elvis Presley both weigh heavily on their young minds.

■ RELIGIOUS REVIVAL... in Once A Catholic

"There are situations in the play that sound funny but actually that's what it was like," says Richard.

"That's what often makes great comedy, when the source of the humour is something that is very close to the truth. Although it pokes fun at the Catholic faith there are some serious issues in there as well.

"I remember seeing this play when it first went on national tour in 1978. I went to see it with a girl who had been to a Catholic convent school and she really enjoyed it and said it was quite accurate."

The Mumford's programme for the winter and spring season is already filling up.

"We've got another Godber play here in February when a company from Abingdon in Oxfordshire will be doing Teachers," says Richard. "And later that week we have a musical version of The Hired Man, the book by Melvyn Bragg."

Once A Catholic runs from tonight to Saturday at 7.30pm.

Punk but no light show

THE original punk rockers, The Damned, are back in Cambridge for their annual Christmas gig on Tuesday. On a visit a few years ago, the noise makers angered local clergy members by agreeing to perform the traditional Christmas lights switch-on in the city. This time they won't be engaging in any civic functions, but they will be attempting to raise the roof once again at the Junction. The group formed in the year punk started, in 1976, and had their first gig as a support act for The Sex Pistols at London's 100 club. Their recording New Rose, was released a few months later and is regarded as the first ever punk single. While they endured several splits, reformations, arguments and comebacks in the 80s, their music was inspiring American bands like Guns 'n' Roses and The Offspring, both of whom have recorded versions of Damned songs in tribute.

The line-up still includes notorious mayhem maker Captain Sensible on guitar and goth frontman Dave Vanian.

Support comes from local electronic post-rock ensemble The Resistance.

Tickets are £15. To book tickets call (01223) 511511.

YOUR GUIDE TO MOVING HOME

1 Moving home can be a complicated business and, in the hectic run to the big day, it is all too easy to forget something vital. The Property News offers their readers this handy checklist that should help avoid major pitfalls. We suggest you tick off the items as you deal with them...

WITH FOUR WEEKS TO GO:

- ☐ Get estimates from removal companies, checking that comprehensive insurance cover is available against damage or loss. Is there a packing and unpacking service? Confirm the date of your move with the firm you have chosen.
- ☐ Check on your home contents insurance policies to ensure that you are covered for the move, and covered at your new address.
- ☐ Make arrangements for your gas and electricity meters (plus water meters where relevant) to be read and all your appliances to be disconnected on the day of your move.
- ☐ Arrange to take over gas and electricity at your new address, and make sure that all appliances will be properly fitted, plumbed or connected.
- ☐ Notify British Telecom and ask them to make the necessary arrangements for a final account at your present address, and for taking over or installing telephone facilities at your new home.
- ☐ Arrange for change of address cards to be printed.

WITH TWO WEEKS TO GO:

- ☐ Confirm all arrangements, times etc, for meter readings, disconnections and reconnections, with authorities and with your buyer and seller.
- ☐ Make sure you have a good stock of packing materials, including sturdy boxes and plenty of string and sticky tape.
- ☐ Begin to throw out unwanted items from attics, wardrobes. What you really don't want you may as well dump now, or send to charity. It's a great time for a good sort out!

WITH ONE WEEK TO GO:

- ☐ Send off change of address cards.
- ☐ Arrange and pay for automatic redirection of your mail by the Post Office.
- ☐ Cancel and pay up accounts for routine delivery services such as milk, groceries, fuel and your Cambridge Evening News. Re-organise these deliveries for your new address.
- ☐ Defrost refrigerators in preparation for move and, if you are moving a freezer and its contents, turn it up to maximum for a couple of days before you move.

WITH ONE DAY TO GO:

- ☐ Complete your packing except for those items you are likely to need overnight, and prepare a picnic for moving day.
- ☐ Have a large enough cash 'float' available to deal with unexpected expenses, and make sure you have collected documents and valuables together in a safe place.
- ☐ Cover carpets which are being left behind, so as to minimise damage during furniture removal.
- ☐ Check through previous lists to make sure nothing has been overlooked, then enjoy a worry-free early night!

2 ON MOVING DAY:

- ☐ Strip beds and pack bedding and nightclothes.
- ☐ Pack items for washing/toiletries.
- ☐ Take down curtains.
- ☐ Take up rugs, carpets, floor coverings, as required.
- ☐ Dismantle any light fittings etc., not included in the sale.
- ☐ Turn off electric appliances.
- ☐ Disconnect cooker.
- ☐ Turn off boiler/central heating.
- ☐ Turn off water.
- ☐ Read gas meter.
- ☐ Read electricity meter.
- ☐ Secure all windows.
- ☐ Lock all doors.
- ☐ Leave key as arranged with new owners.
- ☐ On arrival at your new home, unpack slowly and methodically so that you can check for loss or damage.

3 EXTRA HINTS FOR A SMOOTH MOVE...

WHO TO NOTIFY:

- ☐ Banks.
- ☐ Building Societies.
- ☐ Credit companies.
- ☐ Insurance companies.
- ☐ Gas, Electricity and Water Boards.
- ☐ Telephone company.
- ☐ Local Authority (Rating Department).
- ☐ Driving Licence authorities.
- ☐ Inland Revenue.
- ☐ Store cards and accounts.
- ☐ Other lease, hire or rental companies.

HAVERHILL WEEKLY NEWS

MOTORING

Nitro not subtle but it is fun!

WELL, it had to happen – someone has finally resized a Tonka toy car into a lifesize motor which is now available as a Christmas present.

If you care to part with £23,500 – and if you can find a stocking big enough to fit! – the world of the Dodge Nitro beckons.

But appearances aren't everything. Sure, when you get behind the wheel and turn around you half expect to see a container lorry behind you. But it's a very friendly motor from inside the cabin.

The Nitro has two engine options – a 2.8-litre diesel or a 3.7-litre petrol. When you fire up the motor you have to check it's not in four-wheel drive, such is the volume of chug on the beast. You feather the engine and before setting off in the same way as you get ready to ride a bucking bronco at a rodeo fair.

Out on the road the Nitro is just as eager. The auto 'box on this 174bhp pulveriser makes light work of your bidding and frankly, when you drive this Sherman tank of a vehicle along the highways, other people are more than happy to do your bidding too and they get out of your way pretty fast. Wouldn't you?!

FIRST DRIVE

One for Action Man

MIKE SCIALOM

As I was cruising in the Nitro I began to enjoy the sense of being different. Most motors in this genre have all their curves smoothed and their angles made unthreatening. But the Nitro doesn't doff the cap to anything that's gone before.

I like the door handles (chunky plastic); the standard 20-inch alloys and the way they fill the wheel arches out in style; the heated seats, rain-sensing wipers and rear parking sensors (all standard).

The ride I found it to be rather agreeably damped as well, and a turning circle of 11.1 metres means the Nitro is pretty manoeuvrable.

On the other hand I worry about the steering. There's too little involvement and perhaps this goes with the genre but the lack of feel is a disappointing.

Ideally, you'd be buying the Nitro for a bit of weekend fun on the ranch – I mean at the sailing club – or maybe trackside. It's stable and agreeable (at least in a straight line) and does everything any other SUV will do. I didn't take it off-road but there is a 4WD facility. A full complement of airbags, visors, lights, sounds with MP3 capability, ESP, tyre pressure warnings and the rest – plus 65/35 split-folding rear seats with recline – ensures that your standard Nitro will not leave you with a silly extras bill.

■ THE DODGE NITRO 2.8 DIESEL AUTO SXT . . . lantern-jawed SUV.

BASICALLY . . .

A lantern-jawed SUV which brings a refreshing sense of being different to the sector.

Just a bit more refinement and the Nitro would be a definite contender against long-established competition. As it is, it's a super niche SUV with lots of kit – and bangs! – for your bucks.

■ LIKE A FABIA... only bigger. Estate is available to order now from £9,360.

Fabia estate priced

SKODA has announced pricing for its new Fabia estate model set to go on sale in the UK from February 29, 2008, with the range starting at £9,360.

Unveiled at the recent Frankfurt Motor Show in September, Skoda hopes the new Fabia estate will pick up where the old model left off with 31,000 sold in the UK and a total of 630,000 sold worldwide.

The manufacturer is promising higher levels of equipment and better value for money from the new model. Just 7mm longer, it has a full 42mm of extra headroom and an impressive 1,460-litre loading area with the rear seats folded flat.

The new model comes with a choice of six engines, plenty of storage trays, hooks and cubby holes and even more passenger space, according to Skoda.

Customers can place orders for the new model now. Initial pricing is as follows:

- Fabia Estate 1 – £9,360 to £10,825
- Fabia Estate 2 – £10,470 to £12,615
- Fabia Estate 3 – £12,205 to £13,775

Hand-held driver numbers drop

A NEW survey shows the number of car drivers using hand-held mobile phones at the wheel has fallen by 40 per cent, Road Safety Minister Jim Fitzpatrick has revealed.

Just one per cent of car drivers were observed using a hand-held mobile while driving, compared with 1.7 per cent last year, a survey conducted in August found.

The survey, commissioned by the Department for Transport and published by the Transport Research Laboratory, showed that between September 2006 and August 2007 observed numbers of:

■ Car drivers using hand-held mobiles dropped from 1.7 per cent to one per cent

■ Car drivers using hands-free mobiles dropped from 0.9 per cent to 0.4 per cent

■ Other drivers using hand-held mobiles dropped from 2.9 per cent to 2.4 per cent

■ Other drivers using hands-free mobiles halved, from 1.2 per cent to 0.6 per cent.

■ K.I.T.T.Y... worth its weight in gold?

Aid to find your car is a winner

MORE than 12 million shopping hours are expected to be spent looking for lost cars this month as forgetful motorists struggle to remember where they have parked their cars – costing the economy £648 million in lost revenue as people search car parks instead of shopping shelves this Christmas.

In response to the problem Chevrolet has produced the K.I.T.T.Y (Key Innovation That Talks to You) – a handy little remote-control, which enables the car to shout a personalised message across the car park to its forgetful owner, making it easier to find their vehicle.

Research shows that over five and a half million motorists – one in five – say they lose their car at least once a fortnight with each driver spending an average of five hours and 13 minutes a year searching for it. One in four drivers say they have actually thought of reporting their car stolen after spending more than an hour looking only to realise that it was in the car park all along.

The Chevrolet K.I.T.T.Y has a range of 183 metres and will be trialled in a number of cars over the Christmas shopping period to help put an end to drivers' wayward car park wanderings.

A Handi solution to loading problems

FOR busy families, Christmas can be a logistical nightmare.

From clearing out the old to make room for the new; to working out how to get your Christmas tree home from the shop. From borrowing an extra table to seat all the relatives; to trying to pack the kids, dog, luggage and all the Christmas presents into the car to get to Grandma's.

And once the festivities have finished, there's the multiple road trips to the tip to dump all the empty boxes, wrapping paper, discarded decorations and other rubbish because the bins are only emptied once a fortnight.

To help minimize these transport hassles, why not invest in a HandiRack – a unique, inflatable roof rack that is easily fixed (or unfixed) to four-door and two-door cars in around five minutes. Costing only to take loads of up to 80kg, the HandiRack is the perfect solution for those frustrating occasions when you wish you owned a Transit van!

■ CONVENIENT . . . for all types of car.

It comes complete with its own handy drawstring travel bag, and can be packed away in minutes to the size of an average toaster – perfect for keeping in the boot of the car or in the cupboard when not in use.

The HandiRack is available from Cotswold Outdoor, A1 Motor Stores, Ellis Brigham, Field & Trek, leading water sport & paddle sport outlets, or order online at www.handirackuk.com

■ INFLATABLE . . . to keep in the car.

Bull get better of the Exchange

ONLY five Treadfirst Sudbury & District Sunday League games involving Haverhill teams took place at the weekend due to waterlogged pitches.

No games were played in Haverhill, apart from the clash between The Bull and Royal Exchange in Division One.

Exchange, trying to win their first game since the October 21, were up against the current reigning champions.

The Bull are unbeaten all season in the league, and with their opponents rooted to the bottom of the table, it would take something special for Exchange to pull off a shock. The task, however, proved beyond them as a double from Ricky Tabram and goals from Harry Halls and Chris Claydon saw Bull take three points at Motts Field after a 4-1 success.

Acton Crown recorded their second league win of the season, following their first victory the previous weekend.

This time they overcame high-flying Black Horse Hammers 4-0 in Division Two.

Hammers are behind Mount Pleasant, who lead the division by four points and two games in hand after winning all seven games.

In Division Three, the game of the strugglers saw Stoke By Clare take on Kedington White Horse.

White Horse pulled off a 2-1 victory in a tight game, which left their opponents bottom of the league after only one win and eight defeats in nine games.

At the top of Division Three,

Barnadiston Arms are top, but Grampian Sunday have four games in hand after winning all six league games, as well as still being in the Suffolk Trophy.

Another game between strugglers took place in Division Four as Glemsford & Cavendish recorded their first win after eight consecutive defeats by comfortably defeating Woolpack Reserves 9-2.

The two teams now have the same record, but Glemsford are still bottom on goal difference.

In Division Five, Herbert Lions beat Sudbury Black Horse 6-0 to go second, behind Glemsford Social Club.

Lions have a game in hand on Glemsford, while Arrendean are third, but also have a game in hand.

■ DOUBLE UP . . . Ricky Tabram, who scored twice for The Bull.

Five-goal Roper is tops for Rovers

S-TECH GIRLS UNDER-13 LEAGUE
ROVERS made light of the cold and wet conditions and attacked Bottisham straight from the start.

The Rovers strikers had at least five good chance before they were awarded a penalty, which was missed.

Ten minutes into the game, Rachel Jeffs struck to put Haverhill 1-0 up with a long-range shot that gave the Bottisham goalkeeper no chance.

This opened the flood gates with Stacey Roper, netting four times and Katie Schulz and Chloe Ellis scoring once each to make the half time score 7-0.

Haverhill made some defensive changes for the second half, but it did not hamper their progress.

Roper scored her fifth goal to make the score 8-0 and Ellis and Schulz were again among the scorers as Haverhill took an 11-0.

Bottisham did score a consolation goal late on, but they had no answer to a Haverhill team, whose midfield was in outstanding form.

■ Haverhill Rovers Girls, which runs U12 & U13 teams, trains at the town's leisure on Thursdays, from 7pm to 8pm.

They are always looking for players to strengthen their squads.

YOUTH MATCHES

Carter's hat-trick fires up rampant Reds

West Wrattling U10 Reds 5 Whittlesford Warriors U10 0

CAMBS MINI LEAGUE, DIVISION 10D

WRATTING started at a brisk pace and produced some passing football, but found the visitors were in resilient mood.

Rhys Shulver, making his debut for Wrattling, was had a great game in the middle of the park, linking play excellently.

The deadlock was broken on 10 minutes when ace marksman Alex Carter found himself free in the box and rifled in a great shot.

Two minutes later, the lead was doubled when Carter netted a left-foot rocket.

The home team were now completely dominant and Cameron Kidd completed the scoring for the period.

The second half saw Will Bailey take over in goal to allow Ben Eames into an outfield position.

Again Wrattling played some great passing football and the fourth goal came from a corner with Joshua Osuchukwu being credited with the final touch.

Carter then claimed his hat-trick, firing home from the edge of the box.

Grampian Gunners U10 4 Elsenham U10 1

CAMBS MINI LEAGUE, DIVISION 10E

WITH the ball was skipping around in the pouring rain, Grampian defenders George Mustoe and man-of-the-match Jack Davis put on a classy show to keep Elsenham at bay for most of an entertaining game.

The were well supported by a solid midfield of Jason Moore and Lewis Whiting.

However, the visitors did manage to take the lead with a free-kick, which went in off the post.

Grampian continued to press with Jamie Lingard hitting a post and Moore volleying just over from a corner before Toby Daly smashed in the equaliser from outside the box.

The second half saw a seven-pass move end with the impressive Daly cracking in an unstoppable half volley for his and Grampian's second.

Grampian lost Bailey Cassidy with a sickening injury after a clash of heads, which saw two players leave the field. All the players decided to continue, and, as the rain lashed down, with Mitchell Forshaw nicking two fantastic goals to sew up a much-deserved victory.

FRIENDLY

AFTER a difficult month, Wrattling arranged this friendly to restore confidence and give the team the chance to once again show their ability.

All went to plan as Leyton George's cross was put into his own net by a Milton defender.

Charlie Ripp added a second and James Woodward made it 3-0 before half time.

Further goals came in the second half. Woodward, enjoying his time out of goal, added to his tally before George grabbed a hat-trick as Wrattling ran riot.

Milton did score a couple of goals own in this half, but it was Wrattling who finished with a fine victory.

Charlie Ellam, Jack Harvey, Dion Whitrid, Scott Bishop, Liam Gibbs, Jake Murphy, Callum Dray and Matt Carpenter must also be mentioned for their contribution to a fine Wrattling display in difficult weather conditions.

Girton U8 1 West Wrattling U8 8

WRATTING travelled to Girton looking to continue their impressive run and soon opened the scoring through Grocott.

A quick double from Eldred made it 3-0 before the first interval.

Girton pulled one back after the restart, but good strikes from Mutswanguma and Fellows made it 5-1 to the visitors.

Eldred then doubled his tally to four with two thunderbolts.

Just on the final whistle, Overall got Wrattling's eighth.

Haverhill Rovers U14 5 Grampian Gunners U15 0

CAMBS COLTS LEAGUE, DIVISION 14A

THIS derby was perhaps a closer affair than the result suggests.

With Rodway and Newton were both out injured, Gunners had to switch their defence

Notley nips in to score three tries

HAVERHILL Rugby Club's Mini-Midi Section travelled to Stowmarket. Against Southwold there were great runs for Haverhill U7s by Riess Mason to set up Billy Notley for three tries and one for Myles Wiffen in an 8-4 defeat against a very good team.

A 7-6 victory against Stowmarket was sealed with tries from Oliver Jury (2), Notley (2) and Wiffen (3).

The team player award went to Jack Watson for his great support play.

RUGBY

Haverhill U8 defeated Southwold 13-9, drew 8-8 with the host club, who also narrowly beat them 8-7.

Captain Oliver Lovick was the top Haverhill try-scorer and other tries came from Jack Sizer, Oliver Cooper, Lennon Westley, Ben Wreathall, Billy Ager and Isacc Backs.

Haverhill U10 were beaten 20-0 and 15-5 by their Southwold counterparts. Ben Shannon scored Haverhill's only try with Harry Collins picking up the team player award.

The Haverhill U11/12 team lost 40-12 to Stowmarket. Haverhill were undone by some quick running from a formidable Stowmarket back. Some indifferent tackling and kicking were responsible for Stowmarket gaining an early advantage. Haverhill responded with some solid attacking, but were always chasing the game.

Morrison rejects U's deal offer

MICHAEL Morrison could be on his way out of Cambridge United after rejecting a new contract and being dropped from the team.

The Haverhill-based teenage defender was left on the bench for last Thursday's defeat at Kidderminster as Josh Coulson made his full debut.

And manager Jimmy Quinn revealed Morrison had rejected United's offer of a new deal prior to the match. He said: "Michael has said that he wants to play at a higher level and doesn't want to sign a new contract, so I've got to focus on what's good for Cambridge United."

"Michael is a great lad and he'll play his part while he's here, but his agent will be on the case and whether somebody comes in for him in the transfer window, we'll have to wait and see."

United's chairman Lee Power had hoped the England C international, whose contract runs out at the end of the season, would accept a new deal after turning down a previous offer, which was put to him in the summer.

Power said: "We made Michael a fantastic financial offer for this level."

The United board, who rejected an offer from Southend for the defender in the summer, had wanted an answer one way or the other as soon as possible from the teenager, who has previously had trials with the likes of Carling Premier League giants Chelsea, Everton and Newcastle United.

■ NO DEAL . . . Michael Morrison, who has turned down Cambridge United's offer of a new contract.

Skipper Hunt is spot on to unseat gallant Jockeys

MARCUS Hunt converted his ninth penalty of the campaign to guide Haverhill Rovers to a valuable 1-0 derby win over Newmarket Town in the Ridgeons League, Premier Division on Tuesday night. The club captain has only scored once from open play so far the season, but he kept his cool from the spot once again at the Town Ground for his 10th strike overall which allowed his team to get revenge on the Jockeys for a 2-1 Suffolk Premier Cup defeat in October.

Neither side could get the ball past the other's keeper in an even first half. Rovers shot-stopper, Arron Benstead was called into action first when he had to be on his toes from a Ben Mhishi effort after the Newmarket front man was put in by a poor clearance from Louie Farrington. Steve Bell also forced Benstead to make a smart save, before Haverhill fought back with a Wayne Goddard header and a solid drive from Nick Impey, but just like Benstead, Jockeys No 1 Matt Paynter was up to the task.

But the decisive breakthrough arrived just two minutes into the second half when the referee pointed to the spot after Tom Gallagher was adjudged to have pulled Adam Bensaud down – and Hunt tucked the ball into the bottom right-hand corner past Paynter. Newmarket tried to force the draw with Alex Watson firing wide from a free kick late on as Rover held on for a second 1-0 win on the trot.

Steve Taylor charges are now up to sixth in the table in their first season back in the Premier Division just one point behind fifth-placed Dereham, who have played a game more than Haverhill.

And Rovers, whose scheduled league match at home to Kirkley & Pakefield at the weekend fell victim to a waterlogged Hamlet Croft pitch, will be looking to continue their climb up the table on Saturday when they go to Walsham-le-Willows.

Quinney delight
as Haverhill get back on course

HAVERHILL have finally secured their second win of the season on Saturday. It has taken a long time in coming for Dave Quinney's side, who have endured a miserable time in Eastern Counties League, Division Two, after their only other victory of the campaign, on the opening day of the season. Carl Anderson's try and five points from the boot of Jake Plumridge saw Haverhill lead 10-3 at the break. And a touchdown from Ricky Brown and a further five points from Plumridge sealed the win. "It was a good result," said Quinney. "It worked really well. The conditions were horrible but everyone had a storming game. "Everybody really clicked and the 11 points they got were from our mistakes really. It was really good to get a win under our belt." He added: "It's starting to look positive. Everything is coming together." Haverhill, who were beaten finalists in the competition last season will now be away to Ipswich YM in the semi-finals.

■ HAPPY MAN . . . Haverhill captain Dave Quinney, right, who is pleased that his team have at last returned to winning ways.
